

Johan Raeder has been professor of Anesthesiology at Oslo University Hospital since 1994. He has been in charge of the Day Surgery in the Department of Anesthesiology, founding member of IAAS and the Norwegian Day Surgical Society, previous leader of the subcommittee for Ambulatory Anaesthesia in the ESA.

He is part-time professor at Oslo University and part-time clinician in the day-care units, also doing on-calls with trauma and Intensive care.

He is main author/editor of two international textbooks for ambulatory anesthesia, and Author of approximately 15 chapters in other textbooks. He is author of about 180 papers on Medline, mostly on ambulatory anesthesia, pharmacology, post-operative pain, depth of anesthesia, PONV.